

Hello Ministry Partners!

We appreciate all your support and prayers as you have partnered with us over the years (in ministry and as a family). You've given us love and encouragement, you've lifted prayers to the Father on our behalf, and you've faithfully given money to God to enable us to serve Him in full-time ministry.

We've enclosed a letter from our new supervisor regarding the next step God has for us, which we feel is a culmination of what we have been praying about and working toward for a long time. We're so excited about this new role, and we've seen God's hand very clearly throughout this process.

Before we can transition to this new assignment, we need to raise an additional $500 of monthly support. Since you have already been a vital part of our lives and ministry, God has put it on our hearts to ask you to consider increasing your monthly financial support.

Would you ask God if He is leading you to increase your giving by any amount per month to help us be fully funded for our new assignment quickly?

We would also love to answer any questions you may have about our transition, as well as hear how we can pray for you.

Love,
Jeff + Karen

Dear Friend of Jeff and Karen,

It is with excitement that I write to you about the step forward Jeff and Karen are making in ministry. I have asked Jeff to join my team as the Church Partnership Specialist for campuses in the US.

I lead the Student LINC Ministry, focused on launching new ministries on campuses all over the US where we are not presently active. Our desire is to help give every person a chance to say “Yes!” to Jesus Christ. We are thrilled to have the Grants on our team because their experience with Cru in NJ is uniquely strategic to help us move the campus ministry forward nationally.

Jeff’s heart to “help churches reach students” is indicative of what we’d like to see our entire organization moving toward—activating volunteers to help make Jesus known on local campuses, spreading into local communities, and ultimately impacting the world. Jeff’s wiring for clear communication and innovation perfectly suit Cru’s desire to condense over 50 years of ministry experience and resources into a user-friendly package: a wealth of ideas and materials in a simple format that can be shared by the Church across the US and around the world.

In addition to sharing Jeff’s vision and communication skills, Karen’s open and caring heart will help us bridge gaps and meet new people, and her gifts for evangelism and creativity will be valued assets. Her gifts will not only enhance the LINC team, but also have the potential to serve other needs at Cru’s headquarters.

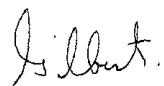

Not just anyone can step into the role we are asking the Grants to fill. They are uniquely qualified because of their experience, walk with the Lord and heart for people. We have great hopes for the contribution they will make to our team and to Cru’s US Campus Ministry.

We are committed to Jeff and Karen having the financial resources and the partnership of people like you so that they can minister with effectiveness. We want them to be adequately funded before they start their new responsibilities.

So as Jeff and Karen take this step forward in faith, may I challenge you to step forward as well in your investment in the ministry of these two dedicated ministers of the Gospel? Your partnership is a valuable contribution to their step forward in ministry and to the Lord’s eternal work in the hearts of the world’s future leaders.

Thank you for considering how to help the Grants make a lasting difference in the college students of America and the growth of God’s Kingdom.

God Bless you,

Gilbert Kingsley
